Guard starts work on hole

by JERRY WHITTLE

Corrective measure work was started last Saturday on the deep hole in front of Gulfside Assembly, South Beach Blvd. Members of the 135 Transportation Unit of the Mississippi National Guard offered their assistance when contacted by Hancock County Civil Defense Director Bob Boudin.

The area has claimed a number of lives over the past several years due to the deep hole reportedly created from dredging work done by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers some 10 years ago. National Guardsmen taking part in the Saturday work were Lt. George Allison, Pfc. Sam Cuevas, S-Sgt. Thomas Pavoloni, Sp5 Bruce Thornton, Sp4 Chisford Ladner and Pvt. Roger Ford.

In an effort to get the hole fixed, Boudin contacted the Corps some eight weeks ago and was told they would try to fill-in the area with material from dredging operations at Bayou Caddy, some two miles away. However, the work has not started and is not expected to begin for several more weeks. Boudin was told it would be "close to Labor Day" before the Corps would be able to start the fill-in.

With this information in-hand, Boudin went before an emergency meeting of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and received approval to proceed with plans to get an independent contractor started on the project. Boudin sought immediate relief by contacting the National Guard.

The ECHO contacted the Corps office in Mobile and talked with a Col. Pope concerning their plans to repair the hole.

Col. Pope said bids on the Bayou Caddy project were taken on July 14th and T.L. James of Rustin, La., was the low bidder. He said the awarding of the contract was expected to be made this week. "Maybe on Thursday (July 28th)". The official said it would take a few extra days for the contractor to complete the necessary paper work, bonds, etc. Col. Pope noted the contractor has up to 20 days to mobilize (get started); but he felt James would not take the entire time period to get underway.

Pope said the fill-in of the hole was not a part of the federally authorized project at Bayou Caddy, but was an "accommodation" to the people of this area. He noted the Corps received a letter from Gov. Cliff Finch asking for assistance in the matter and that the Corps was very interested in working to correct the problem.

One of the major concerns, according to Pope, is the type material used to fill-in the hole and if the material taken from Bayou Caddy is best for filling the hole.

The hole claimed its latest victims some two months ago when six people drowned at the same time.

For 1977-'78 fiscal year

County school budget hovers at $2 million

The Hancock County School Board has submitted an operating budget to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors of $1,957,930, covering operations during the 1977-'78 school year.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph said Tuesday that this sum will probably be amended to around $2,300,000 when all receipts are in and actual expenditures are known next June.

Last year the school board's initial operations budget was $1,671,520. The amended budget, submitted this June to the State Superintendent of Education was $2,111,395.

Of the 1977-'78 total, $511,250 is being sought from district funds, $1,112,088 from the state, $283,226 from federal sources, with the balance, $5,288, being made up from items such as income from 16th section lands and a $46,068 beginning (or carry over) cash balance.

The federal allocation includes the $175,000 of Economic Development Administration funds awarded to the school system last month by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, from EDA monies granted to the county at large, for construction of a new lunchroom complex at Hancock North Central and new restrooms at the Gulfview gymnasium, Lakeshore.

Income from local sources is based on a total county assessed evaluation of $22,089,901. Of this amount, real estate accounts for $13,789,325; personal property, $2,266,424; public service corporations, $6,034,152.

The millage needed to raise the income to the assessment is sought at 25, with an additional five mills to retire outstanding school bond indebtedness.

Randolph said the new budget allows for: $614,504, elementary and $386,929, high school operations; $171,849, transportation; $131,319, special education (Title I); $30,469, guidance; $11,000, health; $1,840, psychological services evaluation (special education); $16,332, improvement instructional services; $56,997, educational media services (includes library); $81,028, school board expense; $44,786, office and school stationery supplies; $134,414, school administration; $175,000, facility acquisition (EDA); $182,098, plant maintenance and contract services (sewage treatment, janitorial services, cleaning supplies, etc.); $2,293, student activity; $4,577, non-public school aides and supplies (Title I). All above includes salaries, operating and classroom supplies where applicable.

Warner attorney claims death date irrelevant

Attorney John Hunter of Pascagoula, in a brief filed with the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, in New Orleans, has apparently informed the court that the actual date of death of James Warner is not material as he was alive and paralyzed at the time of his original trial, and was still in this state when U.S. District Court Judge Walter Nixon instructed the City of Bay St. Louis to pay $375,000 in damage claims.

Further, it is reported, Hunter's brief states the actual date of death does not relieve the City of Bay St. Louis of paying damages for not properly marking the municipal pier with warnings to swimmers.

Warner, on July 4, 1969, sustained injuries to the neck following his diving into shallow water off the Municipal Pier.

The pier concerned was destroyed the following month, August 1969, during Hurricane Camille.

Attorneys for the City of Bay St. Louis, in an appeal, sought a review of the judgement by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals claiming that had they been aware of Warner's death, their written appeal and oral argument would have been of a different nature.

The court subsequently instructed Hunter to file a brief with them defending his position in the case.

On May 19 of this year, following the court's upholding the decision of Judge Nixon, who had reduced the amount from an original award of $750,000, City Attorney Joseph Gex received a telephone call from a male stating that he was the father of young Warner and he wished to know the procedure he should follow for him to collect "his share" of the judgement.

Gex was informed by the caller that Warner had died some 18 months before, when the latter was told such judgements were paid into a trust account.

The city attorney then learned the parents of the boy had "split up" since the incident.

Attorneys George Morse and Walter James Phillips, both of whom represented the city at the hearings, said at that time the disclosure of Warner's death was not made at a hearing in March on the appeal.

Hunter was reported to have said following the "fatal phone call from the Warner parent" that while he did not know the date of Warner's death, it came prior to the court action.

Former Mayor Warren Carver, who was sworn into office just a few days following the accident, estimated that should the judgement stand the mill rate would have to be hiked by two to three mills to retire the judgement.

Compretta reports major gains

by JAKE JACOB

State Representative J.P. Compretta this week revealed details concerning the impact of tourism on Hancock County and other areas of the coast.

Compretta said that too often people are inclined to overlook the value of the tourist indicating that the dollars spent are of vital import to the county's economy.

In making his report, Compretta utilized numbers supplied by the Bureau of Business Research, College of Business Administration, University of Southern Mississippi, as provided to them by: Buccaneer State Park, U.S. Travel Data Center, Mississippi State Tax Commission, Mississippi Vehicle Comptrollers' Office, Gulf Islands National Seashore Headquarters, Mississippi Gulf Coast Visitor's Bureau, Southern Airways, Inc., and the Mississippi Aeronautics Commission.

The county legislator said that in 1976 a total of 24,180 camping units spent one or more days in Buccaneer State Park, Waveland.

Averaging three persons per unit, this amounted to some 72,570 campers. Maintaining the same average of three persons per unit, the first quarter of the year saw 1,454 campers visit Buccaneer, with 14,875 enjoying the park in the second quarter.

Realizing that such a counting method was missing the day campers and picnickers using the facility, the park changed its way of counting this year, and while retaining the three persons per vehicle average, installed counting units.

"The 1977 statistics therefore shows people totals over unit totals, but even lacking an accurate comparison, remain impressive."

"For the first half of this year, more than 285,000 people visited Buccaneer Park for a single day or more."

He said registered counts are: first quarter, 60,117; second quarter, 225,202.

"With the park packed to overflowing and the constant stream of picnickers and others enjoying its many facets, Buccaneer will have an increasing impact on our economy," Compretta indicated.

Compretta said the reports show that travel indicators at the end of the first quarter of this year are up over the corresponding period last year.

"Retail sales of selected travel related establishments indicate gains, the real demand for commercial lodging and lodging occupancy rates are up, and highway traffic volume and travel by common carrier is on the increase," Compretta said.

He said the USM synopsis indicates travel related sales including restaurant and hotel-motel sales along the coast during first quarter, 1977, are up from corresponding periods last year with restaurant sales in the coastal counties accounting for some $17 million in the time frame.

"While Harrison and Jackson counties indicated first quarter sales 'umps' of one and five percent respectively, Hancock County experienced a sizeable sales climb of 17 percent, an increase since believed to have been far exceeded," Compretta said.

He said that while the restaurant sales gain was impressive, he is even more pleased to discover that county hotel-motel sales are up an astounding 31 percent over the first quarter accounting period.

"This is a really favorable indicator

Welcome center now faces further delays

Another waiting period of some six months has been established until Hancock County can expect construction of a hospitality station near the Mississippi-Louisiana state line.

Construction of the welcome center has been in the mill for some five years, which included a change in the location, and the additional six months is not assured by officials of the state highway department.

The highway department first started construction in 1972 on a center for the Hancock County area at a site 10 miles inland. The location was protested by Gulf Coast officials who claimed it would not be of benefit to the Coastal area. A public hearing was forced by the State Legislature and held at Bay St. Louis in April of 1973. Citizens and public officials said the original site off Mississippi 603 was too far east to benefit many tourist-oriented businesses or to afford visitors the opportunity to view the Gulf Coast. A loss of visitation to NASA was also mentioned as one of the objections to the 603 location.

Following the hearing, the site was changed to a location west of the NSTL exit at Mississippi 607.

Since that time very little has been done to further the construction of the welcome center. Phase I bids were taken in November of 1976, but the lowest bid was over $100,000 more than the engineering estimate on the groundwork contract. Two months later, Bond Paving Co. of Gulfport was awarded a low bid contract of $894,000. Highway department officials set the completion date at July of 1977. Now the date is set for August of this year, but work is reportedly running two months behind schedule.

Officials say the welcome center building will depend on Federal Aid Interstate funds, they are expected to be announced on Oct. 1st. The total cost of the facilities already built has been approximately $700,000 each.

Reports said the project depends on funds for completion and the funding will have to come from state and federal sources before the center can be completed.

Environmental impact statement due on August 1st

August 1st has been established as the expected date for a draft environmental impact statement to be issued for a proposed 16-mile rail spur to Du Pont's pigment plant near DeLisle.

John Giorgio, assistant chief of the Section of Energy and Environment of the ICC, has said he is not sure the exact form which the application would take, but that it is his understanding that some type of authority from the Commission will be required.

The application is presently in the name of a Du Pont subsidiary, Southern Mississippi Transportation Co., but SMTC no longer intends to build the spur, according to Du Pont officials.

Giorgio said comments will be invited on the environment impact of the line, which will run south of and parallel to I10 from the ICG line to DeLisle.

Save the Bay has already requested a hearing on the rail line, which has been termed an absolute requirement for the successful operation of the $150 million plant.

The plans for the line were approved earlier this week by the Harrison County Board of Supervisors.

MISSISSIPPI NATIVE ORCHIDS

Mississippians who take to the woods in the rural areas of the state have the privilege of viewing between one and two dozen varieties of native orchids - provided they have a sharp, curious eye and are in the right place at the right time.

But unfortunately most Mississippi folks live a lifetime in this rich botanical showplace without ever knowingly viewing an orchid except in a floral shop or greenhouse.

Dr. Clair A. Brown, author of WILDFLOWERS OF LOUISIANA (and adjoining states) pictures and describes the characteristics and habitats of 16 orchid varieties in that state, all of which also occur in similar habitats in Mississippi.

Over the past five and a half years the writer of this article has found and photographed more than 500 species of Mississippi wildflowers to find the orchid family is the most elusive group due to their unique choices of places to grow and bloom. Most thrive in wet and boggy sites of one sort or another from the coastal marshes to the hills adjoining Tennessee.

Probably the most beautiful and popular, among the rare ones, is the Yellow Fringed Orchid which you may find blooming from July through September in certain boggy, pineland sites, primarily in the southern half of the state.

Outside of Mississippi, however, this rare plant can be found at various elevations of the Great Smokey Mountains far removed from the pine bogs of this state. Obviously a common denominator for this plant's presence is a moist soil regardless of elevation.

Of comparable beauty is a rare Purple Fringeless Orchid found in DeSoto county on the banks of a local stream, again with its roots in moist soil.

Only this spring the writer was led to a humus, well wooded hillside east of Ripley in extreme northeast Mississippi, to view and photograph a now rare Yellow Lady's Slipper Orchid. Its beauty was awesome to behold. We photographed the solitary blossom beneath the canopy of a dogwood tree on a steep hillside generously covered with ferns. A scant 15 feet away was the withered bloom of a Showy Orchid, another extraordinary, beautiful orchid not recorded in the Louisiana manual.

In recent years this writer has shown wildflower slides and lectured in all parts of the state concerning Mississippi's vast wildflower heritage. At various times and places local people have spoken up in the audience to report Yellow Lady's Slipper Orchids in north Mississippi counties from Louisville to the Tennessee line. Their scarcity today would indicate a decline in their numbers in recent decades.

One of the most popular state orchids occurs fairly generously from Hattiesburg to the Mississippi Sound - the Snowy Orchid. Its white spikes are about two feet tall and can be seen along the right-of-way of U.S. Highway 99 from Hattiesburg southward through the long leaf pine timberlands to the Coast.

Another of extraordinary beauty is the Grass-Pink or Bog Orchid, which blooms from April through June in wet places. We have found colonies of them along Highway 25 between Louisville and Starkville and even more in the pine boglands of southern Mississippi.

BSL gets new trash pickup schedule

The Mayor's Office has announced a new TRASH pickup schedule for residents of Bay St. Louis.

Beginning Tuesday, July 25, 1977 the new TRASH collection schedule by the city's

Department of Sanitation, is as follows:

MONDAYS and FRIDAYS will be the beaches, highway 90 and city litter barrels. Garbage is prohibited in litter barrels. These barrels are for trash only.

TUESDAYS and THURSDAYS will be regular trash days for residential homes and lots. Check the map below for your area route and the day trash will be picked up.

WEDNESDAYS will be special order days. Garbage collection throughout the city will remain the same.

Hesson named

Recently named manager of the Mississippi Marketing Council office in New Orleans by Mississippi Governor Cliff Finch is Robert Wilton Hesson, Jr.

A 1969 graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi with a B.S. degree in education and political science, Hesson received his M.S. degree at the American Graduate School of International Management, formerly known as Thunderbird, at Glendale, Arizona in January, 1977. He has also done graduate work at the Poly Technical University and the National University of Mexico in economics, investment and language.

A charter member of Sigma Nu Fraternity at Southern, Hesson is active in both the fraternity and school alumni association. He was employed as a teacher of social studies, Mississippi history, civics and special education in the Bay St. Louis and Pascagoula School systems for seven years while also maintaining a karate school.

A native of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, Hesson is the son of Robert W. and Fern Rogers Hesson and is married to the former Vicki Ivy.

Merle Fraser, secretary of the Marketing Council, a division of the state Agricultural and Industrial Board, commented on the appointment, "Hesson is certain to be a success as manager. With his background in international management and his command of several foreign languages, he will be able to function most effectively in the Council's New Orleans branch."

Gulfview

new names

Parents having children who will be six years of age by Dec. 1 of this year, eligible to attend Gulfview School, Lakeshore, are urged to pre-register them before the start of classes.

Pre-registration may be undertaken during the hours of 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Thursday and Friday, Aug. 4 and 5, at the school office.

Students of all grades not yet registered, entering this school for the first time, are also asked to complete the necessary registration forms.

First graders will need a certified birth certificate and an immunization record.

School authorities are emphasizing the pre-registration is limited to beginning first graders and transfer students.

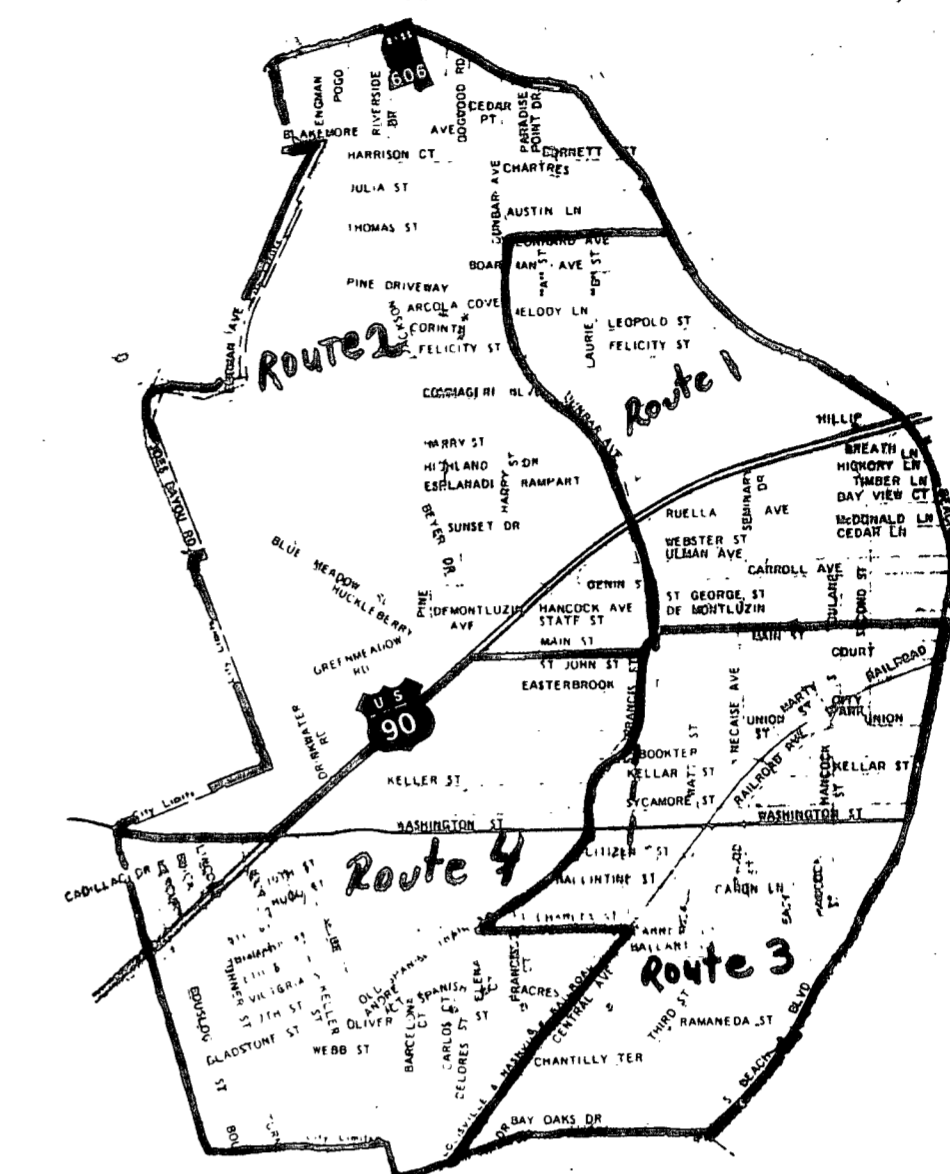

STUDY UNDERWAY

The Ole Miss Engineering School has received a $70,000 initial grant for research on a worldwide problem, water erosion. The total project is expected to continue three years with funding of half a million dollars.

Basic problem researchers will be considering is that of sediment eroding off hilly country and washing down to flat areas. Supporting the study is the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"As sediment fills up channels in the delta, flood control becomes difficult," said Ole Miss Deap Karl Breker.

"Loss of the sediment not only ruins the land downstream, but the land from which the soil is eroded is also made worthless."

TEEN LEADER CAMP

Teenagers interested in working with younger youth have some excellent opportunities in 4-H. Under the guidance of an adult, these teenagers may now organize 4-H Clubs and serve as the leader.

A Teen-Leader Workshop will be held Aug. 1-3 at Gulf Park in Long Beach. The workshop will provide training for teen-leaders and will include such topics as communication, motivation, leadership and also a session on marine science.

Anyone wanting more information should contact the local 4-H Youth Agent at 467-5456.

RECIPE FOR A LEADER

Take 12 months of 4-H work and divide them into 28, 30 or 31 parts. Don't make the year's batch at one time but as follows:

For each meeting add 12 parts of togetherness; 11 parts, responsibility; 10 parts, courage; 8 parts, work (some omit this ingredient and spoil the rest); 7 parts, loyalty; 6 parts, personality; 5 parts, kindness; 4 parts, recreation (leaving this out is like leaving the oil out of a salad); 3 parts, special activities; 2 parts, refreshment, and a lot of touring.

Add to this a dash of fun, sprinkle of play and a cupful of good humor. Add a generous amount of leadership and mix with vim. Cook thoroughly with fervent heat, garnish with smiles and a spring of joy. Serve with dedication, unselfishness and cheerfulness. Happy 4-H members are the result!

Promised, but when?

Eight weeks ago Hancock County Civil Defense Director Robert Boudin was told by the U.S. Corps of Engineers that the hole in front of Gulfside Assembly would be filled within eight weeks.

Two weeks after Boudin was told this, six vacationers drowned in the hole. There was widespread publicity about Hancock County and Waveland, not the type of publicity wanted.

To us it seems that the Corps of Engineers would have put more effort into getting the job done, maybe, even before they had said they would because of the great tragedy, but, a few days ago Boudin was told it would probably be Labor Day before they fill the hole.

On Monday of this week we were told by a spokesman from the Corps of Engineers office in Mobile that a contract would be let this week. The successful bidder would have 20 days before he has to start but in all probability it would be started sooner. This is all well and fine but we still think, because of the hazardous condition caused by this hole, that the Corps of Engineers are dragging anchor.

More drownings, we have had 22 during the past 10 years in this hole. The Corps of Engineers may think it will just go away, if it hasn't gone away in 10 years, we don't think it will without an effort to fill the hole.

Boudin is trying every way possible to get the hole filled. Last Saturday, volunteers from the 135 Transportation Unit of the Mississippi National Guard, tried a maneuver of running over the edges of the hole with two Larks (land and water vehicles), Boudin's hope is that they were able to make a gradual drop in the hole. Boudin says that he has been instructed by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to get estimates on filling the hole from private contractors.

If anyone is concerned, it is Boudin, I know some of you will say it is his job, that is true, but there are some like the Corps of Engineers that seem to be specialists in giving you the run around.

The hole in question is a serious hazard, it should be corrected, not Labor Day, but now. If there were some nut running around with a gun shooting at people and missing them most of the time but hitting one every now and then, every effort would be made to put him behind bars. This hazardous hole, to us, is similar to that nut.

When will it be filled?

On consolidation

SI-10 plans gain involvement

Two major items emerged out of the consolidation editorials.

One concerned the lack of complete definition concerning a vocational school, and the other centers on the SI-10 scheme.

Taking the last first, there seems to be as much variation in thinking concerning this plan as there are people expressing thoughts on the matter, and none wear the stamp of official approval.

As it was first explained the SI-10 (South of Interstate Highway 10) plan was fairly simple.

All students of junior and senior high school age living in the county south of I-10 would attend school in facilities of the Bay-Waveland Municipal Separate School System, and students of that age living north of that line would continue to go to the county schools.

This now, due to the introduction of varieties, is generally known as the SI-10-1 plan.

Although not truly conforming to nomenclature, the SI-10-2 plan appears to call for the line of demarcation to be shunted some mile or so to the north enabling children from Diamondhead to take advantage of the situation, and indeed (if one is talking to the right people) on another variation as far as Kiln.

The SI-10-3 scheme seems to offer yet another twist and introduces the feasibility of the county floating a bond issue to obtain sufficient proceeds to enable construction of a junior-senior high school adjacent to the Waveland municipal line. This facility would provide a satisfactory haven for the southwest and south portion of the county's more advanced grade students while encouraging some sort of amalgamation between city and surrounds.

Finally, the SI-10-4 arrangement would see a physical consolidation of all educational facilities within the aforementioned boundaries, leaving the county proper its centrally located unit.

Room for argument exists for all these and, it is believed, at least one (SI-10-1) is to receive the assistance of legal minds in the near future.

Switching to the topic of definitions, it is not considered that a vocational high school is one that devotes its entire teaching life to such subjects as practical shop training to the detriment of academic pursuits.

Again, as represented, such an educational facility would simply concentrate on the more practical side of life, perhaps emphasizing business and mechanical mathematics, everyday and practical English - written and oral, physical sciences, geopolitics, and the role of the individual in society, in addition to the more readily acceptable interpretations of vocational training available now at the school and through its association with other vocational-technical centers in the county.

It is encouraging to hear the many variations in discussion, particularly in view of the multi-million dollar budgets now being presented the taxpayer.

Change, even for the better, is not brought about easily - for many reasons both obvious and not obvious, and by the same token, it is well to remember there are no "theys."

But, it may serve well to additionally recall that recent proof exists to the effect that change, even to the entrenched, can be brought about.

Whittlin' with Whittle

Those who read our little "push" for assistance for the Bay-Waveland Humane Society's efforts in securing funds for an animal shelter should take note of the response we received. Several have expressed their support of this organization's efforts and we have not heard any negative words. Those in command of our tax dollars might take a second look at this important matter...important to the taxpayer and the VOTER!

We had an interesting talk with a visitor to our community earlier this week. Describing himself as "One of those damn Yankees who doesn't know how to keep his mouth shut", the gentleman brought an important matter to our attention. The Northern visitor (as we elect to call him) pointed out that a local bank is flying the American flag incorrectly and additionally that the flag is in sad shape (tattered).

Our visitor said he happened to notice the sad-shape flag while viewing our wonderful skies; noting that in Buffalo, New York the sky was filled with smog. He said he had never served in the service and did not belong to any organization such as the VFW, American Legion, etc., but still felt our flag should be displayed properly.

We would agree and are sure the tattered flag is just an oversight on the bank's part.

A few weeks back, we mentioned the twisted traffic lights at the Bay Bridge and how difficult it was for motorists to see them as they drove into our town.

The lights were straighten, but were soon back to the crooked position. We got to wondering if maybe we were the only ones who had trouble seeing the lights. Not so. We were behind an out-of-state car the other day and the driver had to do a quick-draw on the brakes in order to avoid running a red light. At present the lights are straight, but we don't think they will remain that way for long. The state highway department needs to get on the ball!

Letters, do we get letters. And we more than welcome Letters to the Editor...we want 'em!

However, we do have a few requirements and ask that you observe our few rules. First and most important, we do require the letters be signed by the writer and that we be allowed to publish the name of the writer. As with all information supplied to us, we reserve the right to edit the material. This does not mean we will alter the letter as to content, but in case of spelling or to prevent libel or slander. We would also ask that you get to the point and not drag it out.

And if you have in mind a fictitious letter, we should warn you we check 'em out.

So keep them cards and letters coming folks...we'll print 'em.

Dealing with the above, we received a letter a few days ago from a lady who told of an attack by a man at her home. She did not give her name and we did not publish the letter. Just this week we received another letter from her saying she felt we should have rewritten the letter and published the revision. Sorry but we can't do that. However, we will take this space to relay the lady's message. That being that you should keep your doors and windows locked, especially at night. It is also important for women living by themselves to be extra careful. This lady was fortunate. She fought off the attacker and was not harmed. Don't say, "It couldn't happen to me"...it could!

Have a nice day!

Opinion/Jerry Whittle

In our present day trend of promoting and pushing our youth to be winners, the best and always "Number One", we would do well to set aside the importance of winning all the time and determine what we are teaching our youngsters.

We need look no further than our own back yard to find true winners, that being the Babe Ruth team from Bay St. Louis that received the second place trophy in the state tournament held last weekend in Long Beach.

There would be some who would question our label of "winners" because of the second place award. However, we feel the young men of the Bay Babe Ruth are "winners".

At this stage of their life these young men may not realize the importance of their participation in the local baseball program, but some day they will reach the point of realization when they are battling the business world or supporting a family. They will realize the values taught them by their coaches, namely: team work, desire, hustle and sportsmanship. These can all be applied to their future lives.

Our local boys displayed a tremendous effort at Long Beach and we are proud to have such representation of our community. Although behind in both games, Bay battled and battled until the final out was recorded. Their efforts did not go unnoticed by this paper or the fans in attendance.

Of course we would all like to be "Number One" and we would have liked to have seen our own as the best in the state. But as in life there has to be ups and downs and no one can be the best always. The lesson of competition will surely go a long way in making better citizens of our young men who were "winners" at Long Beach.

Thanks fellows, you did us and yourselves proud!

State Champs

Congratulations are in order for our own Bay St. Louis Little League 9 & 10 year-olds as the winners of the Little League State Championship.

Crowded winners at Biloxi last Monday evening, the Bay St. Louis team is the first ever in this division since this was the start of the state championship for this age group.

We salute the little leaguers for their efforts and successful climax to the 1977 season.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

In response to your stinging editorial of July 3, we would like to correct certain fallacies. Besides my family, there was a grand total of ONE other person from New Orleans at the meeting concerning the LOCATION of a marina.

Not only were all thirty chairs in the council room filled, but the available standing room was taken as well; however, even if your figure of 25 was correct, the Bay residents were OVERWHELMINGLY in the majority. In addition to our neighbors, there were Bay residents representing some of the most important institutions and organizations in Bay St. Louis.

During the 97 summers our family has lived in the Bay, we always thought that our interests and those of the Bay residents were the same. Not until your article did we know that somehow we are "different". As children, our biggest job was to build sandcastles, run on the sandbars, and swim in front of our home. But when the American Legion pier was changed into a SOLID LAND MASS, things began to change. The natural tidal flow of the Bay waters became blocked by this SOLID LAND MASS and the water could no longer flow out at night and cleanse itself.

Hence, the area between Stanislaus and the American Legion SOLID LAND MASS now is the third to worst polluted area on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. A count of 2,000 fecal coliform per hundred milliliters indicates that swimming should be prohibited. Our area now has a count of 13,000 fecal coliform per hundred milliliters. According to a member of the State Board of Health, any little children who swim out in front in this area do so at the risk of having stomach infections, eye infections, and hepatitis which can be fatal. Do the Bay residents want this situation for their children anymore than we want it for ours?

Are we so "different" from the Bay residents in choosing a LOCATION for the marina near the Bay-Waveland line which would not place the entire burden of a bond issue on the residents of Bay St. Louis alone, or in choosing a place in the business district where the Bay merchants would receive added trade, or in choosing Bayou Caddy where the land is undeveloped? Do the Bay residents choose to have the city spend almost two million dollars to develop property that does not belong to the city?

To think that people who come to the coast for recreational purposes would be opposed to a marina doesn't make sense. What we are for is the elimination of the raw sewerage which is still being dumped into the Bay, a solution to the SOLID LAND MASS which is blocking the natural flow of the Bay water, and for preserving an existing residential neighborhood. Are we really so "different" from the Bay residents?

Our lives have been intertwined with those of the Bay residents for five generations. These people have been and are our friends. It is our belief that we would both like to preserve the beauty and cleanliness of our Bay as well as enjoy a marina at a DIFFERENT LOCATION.

Dear Jerry:

I think your coverage of the special meeting of the City's new Council last Friday regarding my resignation was accurate and to the point. However, you quoted the word "audit" which was proper because it was used several times during the meeting referring to one of my requests.

I should have corrected this at the time but failed so I need to clarify the situation. At no time, either by letter or orally, did I ask for an "audit" of the City books - the City has a reputable firm of CPAs to audit the books yearly.

What I had asked was that the State Auditor or his representative check the books to see if the requirements of the State Auditor were being met. All Municipal Clerks are required to do this by law and most ask that it be done periodically to ascertain if all new laws are being followed. Otherwise they can be sued.

I am attaching a true copy of my letter of resignation so you may see for yourself that the word "audit" was never mentioned by me. It was written mostly, as you reported, to separate myself from the legal responsibilities attached to the City Clerk's job so I could not be sued. The state auditor has now been contacted and has agreed to have someone check the books to see if all new laws are being observed, as well as old ones.

Sincerely,

Attention: Editor

Dear Sir:

It is disgusting all the squawk about the Du Pont plant. It makes one wonder if the people who are against it wouldn't rather see all the people on welfare, food stamps and the like, instead of working for a living. Most of the people who are against Du Pont building, all have income, and could care less if any one else can make a living or not. They would rather see this area remain a ghost area, as far as employment is concerned. As for the pollution of the Bay of St. Louis, isn't it a fact that the waters north of the bridge have been polluted for some time. The pollution has not washed through the spans of the bridge yet, so why would it do it now, just because Du Pont builds its plant.

This is crazy. Why is it that the people in other areas where Du Pont plants are located haven't died of pollution. Maybe, the people, so called part-time residents, would be better off if they stayed where their homes are located, instead of coming into Hancock County and making all this fuss and trying to stop an industry moving into the area where people can get employment. This is one of the main reasons why Hancock County cannot get or keep any industries in here.

Then, as I developed problems with my heart, and having been in the hospital several times within the past few months, my husband and I decided to join Mobile Medic. On July 9, 1977, I mailed a check for $21.00 to Mobile Medic for our membership. On July 12, 1977, at night, I had an attack with my heart. Dear Mr. Whittle:

When Rev. Michael Costello was appointed Pastor of St. Clare's Church in Waveland in 1919, the ladies of the Alar Society joined together and had a "Penny Party" also a "Bake Sale".

In 1953 when Father Costello was home in Ireland for the summer the Parishioners determined to surprise him and expand the long time annual "Penny Party" and "Bake Sale" into a full blossomed Fair.

St. Clare will celebrate their silver jubilee Parish Fair on Saturday, Aug. 6th and Sunday, Aug. 7th, starting each evening at 5:00 p.m. on the church grounds. There will be more than 24 booths and more than 200 workers to help make this the best year yet.

Come on out for a week-end of enjoyment for young and old alike.

One of the highlights of the fair will be the fish fry to be held in the Parish Hall starting at 5:00 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 5th. Take out orders and deliveries will be available by calling 467-3553, donation $2.00.

Please give these events as much publicity as possible.

REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

JACKSON - We now are able to announce additional details on the Crisis Intervention Program which will help pay utility bills for our elderly poor people in Mississippi.

Most of you remember that we announced a few weeks ago that we had acquired more than 1.8 million dollars ($1,820,000) from the Community Services Administration to help pay these utility bills.

This program is for the elderly who are poor. It will work this way: In order to receive this payment from the Governor's Office, our elderly poor people will have to be certified as meeting the requirements by either the Community Action Agency or Welfare Office in their county. Once they are certified, then the Governor's Office will provide them assistance for their utility bills.

Information on social security

TRAVELING AFTER RETIREMENT

For many people retirement is the chance to travel in a way they never could when they were tied to a job. Quite suddenly, a travelogue becomes more than just words or pictures, but a potentially intriguing hunt for fun and excitement. For some, the search for "roots" may lead to faraway lands and places, as it did for the author of the currently popular book by that name, according to William D. Gladden, social security district manager in Gulfport.

Although you don't ordinarily think about social security office as a travel consultant, there are some things you should know about your security, and other things you should check with us about. The information can save you, at the very least, some time and inconvenience, and at the most, some money.

You will, of course, want to make some arrangements for your social security checks, even if your trip is a short one. The Post Office will hold your mail for your return, or the check can be forwarded to your vacation address. If it's going to be longer than 3 months, you might want to have your social security check sent directly to your bank for deposit.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo,

The people of Bay St. Louis can rest assured that their fire department is a capable and efficient unit that is well prepared to protect your property in the event of fire.

On Friday, July 15, the Bay St. Louis Fire Department responded to an alarm at my home, 504 South Beach Blvd. Although the fire had burned 10 to 15 minutes prior to their arrival the firemen were able to control the fire within 2 to 5 minutes and had it completely out in 20 minutes.

The interior of the home suffered extensive damage from the fire but damage by water was minimal. Proof of excellent fire fighting technique.

Special credit must also be given to our able Police Chief and his officers for the capable way they handled the Beach traffic and sympathetic onlookers our newly elected Mayor Bennett who was interested enough to come by and offer sympathy and help and of course all the people of Bay St. Louis that were and are concerned.

News in brief

REYE'S SYNDROME

Reye's Syndrome is a serious illness that often is fatal to children. It usually follows shortly after a viral illness, such as flu or chicken pox.

Of the thousands of children that come down with the flu each winter, only a few, statistically, will develop Reye's Syndrome. But for those few it will be very serious.

Usually the child will have completely recovered from the first illness and be back in school or at play before the symptoms of Reye's appear. Sudden, persistent vomiting ceases. The child may become totally irrational - screaming, striking out, and unable to recognize family members and other familiar faces.

Washington report

By Trent Lott

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The allegations floating around the country that Members of Congress are involved in South Korean "influence-buying" activities have existed long enough. It is time to answer them once and for all.

Last week, I urged President Carter to appoint a special prosecutor - in the style of the Watergate investigation - to look into those charges. It must be done in order to preserve the integrity of the Congress and the country.

Later in the week, the House Ethics Committee announced the employment of former Watergate special prosecutor Leon Jaworski to head the investigation. Jaworski will succeed former committee special counsel Philip A. Lacovara, who resigned after repeated flaps with the committee chairman.

It appears now that Jaworski will be the closest thing we'll get to a special prosecutor and he has been assured of complete cooperation by House leaders as his investigation gets started. I hope those assurances are real.

But I still have the nagging feeling that as long as Congress has jurisdiction over this particular investigation, the suspicion will continue. Despite Jaworski's apparent zeal for rooting out impropriety, much is at stake.

First is the question of whether the House itself is able to clean its own backyard. This is a matter that goes beyond party boundaries and slaps at the very foundation of government. The House has not demonstrated a desire to punish misconduct among its members in the past.

Maybe times have changed enough so that an internal investigation can be a successful one, even when it seriously challenges the ability of individuals to avoid conflicts. We will see.

Personally, I feel any charge of wrongdoing that ties elected representatives in the United States Congress with agents of a foreign government must be fully examined. The man who investigates the matter must have the authority to obtain documents and other evidence in the course of the investigation.

Jaworski needs advance written authority, not a so-called "gentleman's agreement," to conduct his investigation properly and also for his own future protection.

I hope that he will bring not only his own good name and unique qualifications to the position, but will also leave with the same. He will, for better or worse, lend credibility to the results of his probe.

Bay St. Louis finishes second

Long Beach takes Babe Ruth

LONG BEACH - It took Long Beach only two games to eliminate Bay St. Louis from the Babe Ruth Tournament being held here last week. The Long Beach team downed Bay St. Louis 2-0 and 8-5 to take the state title over the weekend.

The first time the two teams met, Mike White hurled the shutout for Long Beach to take the win while facing 26 batters and striking out eight Bay St. Louis batters. The Bay St. Louis pitcher allowed four hits against 26 batters while hurling two strikeouts.

Kerry Geroux and Melvin Barnes collected the only two hits for Bay St. Louis with Duibasson, Marshall, Patton and Boyd leading the batting attack for the Long Beach team with one hit each.

Duibasson and Patton came across the plate for Long Beach to win the game with runs in the first and fifth inning.

Long Beach bats were more potent in the final game of the double elimination tournament when the home team clobbered three homers in an 8-5 win over the Bay team.

Duibasson, Danny Guin, and Mike White all got round trippers for the Long Beach team. Nightengale claimed the win while Kerry Geroux was tagged with the loss for Bay St. Louis. Nightengale faced 30 batters and gave up only eight hits in the game. Geroux gave up 11 hits while facing 33 batters in the contest. Geroux did help his own cause though, with an excellent three for four performance at the plate for the Bay team.

Long Beach built up a four run lead going into the fifth inning before Bay St. Louis could get on the board with David Murtagh coming across the plate. The Bay team added three more runs in the sixth inning and one more in the seventh to end their scoring for the day while Long Beach claimed two runs in the second, one in the third, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and seven in the seventh.

NAMED TO ALL STAR TEAM-Three Bay St. Louis All Stars were named to the state All Star team after Bay St. Louis finished second to Long Beach in the state championship in Babe Ruth baseball Sunday. Representing Bay St. Louis on the nine-man team are, from left, Kelly Geroux, Kerry Geroux, and Melvin Barnes. Kerry Geroux and Barnes are both outfielders and Kelly Geroux plays second base.

Biloxi pounds Waveland 22-3

BILOXI - The Waveland American Legion Baseball team, representing post 77, turned eight errors and only one hit into a 22-3 thrashing at the hands of Biloxi Tuesday in the District Six Tournament being played here.

Biloxi, already in the state tournament by virtue of the district championship, was led to the win by Jake Gill on the mound. Gill hurled five innings of hitless ball while striking out 10 Waveland batters and allowing six walks. Wes Austin finished off the last two innings allowing one hit for Biloxi while fanning two Waveland batters. Gill aided his own cause with a two for three performance at the plate including a triple.

Kerry Corr started for Waveland and was tagged with the loss after allowing three hits and nine walks in 2 23 innings. Donny Corr came on in relief in the third inning and gave up three hits and three walks in his tour at the mound. In the fourth Barry Arcement came on to finish the game and gave up four hits and five walks.

Waveland's runs came on five walks and a sacrifice in the second inning with Donny Corr, Timmy Ladner and Freddie Keel crossing the plate. Ladner got the only Waveland hit of the game when he singled in the sixth. Waveland led 3-2 at the end of the second inning before Biloxi exploded for four runs in the third, nine in the fourth, six in the fifth, and one run in the sixth.

The tournament will conclude on Friday with the championship game scheduled at the Lee St. field.

Harvill outdoors

By Donald Harvill

467-4734

The salt-water fishing seems to have picked up some since we had some rain. People have been catching some specks just about everywhere, more so in some places than others. Most of the specks are running kind of small, about half a pound to two pounds, but the temperature is still too high for the fresh-water fishing to be at its best.

If you really want to stretch your fish tales just bring them to the Sea Coast Echo and give them to the Editor, Ellis Cuevas. The redfish that I told you about last week in the news from LaFrance's Fishing Camp was 18 lbs. when it left my typewriter, but by the time he got through with it, it weighed 181 lbs.

Richard Gardner, of Long Beach, and his brother-in-law, Charles Kessler caught 107 specks and white trout on live shrimp, while wade fishing off the beach in front of Long Beach the mornings of the 13th, 14th, and 15th. The largest fish were specks running two pounds.

Gardner said that they fish on the rising tide, and that the action tailed off right after the high tide.

Fishing isn't only a mans sport, women can catch fish, and big ones too. A prime example of this is an Atlantic Blue Marlin that was caught this past weekend by Linda Koerner, aboard the boat Damnfiknow. The marlin weighed in at 1018 1/2 pounds was caught while trolling Konahead lures 18 miles south of the south pass of the Mississippi River.

The fish is the 3rd largest Atlantic Blue Marlin ever caught and the largest ever caught in the Gulf of Mexico. The Fish will also be the new womens world record for the Atlantic Blue Marlin category.

The Brown Pelican is an endangered species, especially in this area, so if you happen to see one please don't bother it. If you are caught killing one you could come under penalty of law.

While on a fishing trip with my brother Dave, and my fishing buddy, Scott Hasney, Yours Truly managed to hook and land a 109 lb. tarpon. The trophy was brought to gaff after a battle of approximately 30 to 45 minutes.

PEARLINGTON: The water is still real salty and clear, but there hasn't been much fishing done out of here. Most people are either going water skiing or boating. One man from Gulfport caught both specks and green-trout (bass) in their river using live shrimp. We open at 5:00 a.m. on weekends and at daylight on Weekdays. We have some rental skiffs and motors. We are closed on Tuesdays. (Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina).

ANSLEY: The fishing was pretty good out of here this week. Friday Mr. Kriege of Clermont Harbor caught 126 specks at Halfmoon. There were several other nice catches made at Halfmoon. On Monday one boat made a good catch of specks at Big Grassy and another made a nice catch at Brush Bayou. We have live and dead bait rental skiffs ice and other fishing accessories available. We open at 5 a.m. daily. (Toxie Hall LaFrances Fishing Camp).

KILN: We had a pretty good week the weather was good and a lot of people were fishing. There were some bass caught in the local ponds on live minnows. The white perch are still biting. Mr. Smith of Lakeshore caught a 42 lb. catfish in Bayou La Croix. A family of three caught 25 bream between them in Bayou Talla. We have live minnows, shrimp, worms and crickets along with various other assorted fishing tackle. We open at 5 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. (Andy Ladner Andy's Bait Shop at Kiln Supermarket).

JOE'S BAYOU: The fishing was real good this past week, just about everyone caught fish. They have been catching specks and reds in the river and near the mouth of the river. The rain has really helped the fishing, more so than a lot of people think. Sylvan Carver caught a 22 lb. jackfish in the river and Herman Poillon caught 2 jacks about 20 lbs. apiece they were all caught on live shrimp. Some man caught 48 specks up the river on live shrimp. There have been a lot of people fishing up the river at night catching fresh-water fish. We had the coach for the New Orleans Jazz come over and buy some crabs from us this past weekend. (Mrs. Allie Cospelich Joe's Bayou Marina).

Until next week: Don't catch them all "Leave a few for me."

Biloxi forfeits

Bay team champs

BILOXI-A forfeit by the Biloxi American League All Stars of the 9-10-year-old league gave the Bay St. Louis Little League All Stars a free ride to the state championship Monday. The two teams were to meet here for the championship game that was never played.

The Bay team won a berth in the championship game by winning the Western Division tournament in Ocean Springs. In that tourney Bay St. Louis had wins of 16-4 against Harrison-Hancock, 17-9 against Biloxi National, and an extra inning game against Ocean Springs that ended 8-7.

Sports

East Central edges Bay team

LONG BEACH- The Bay St. Louis 13-year-old Babe Ruth baseball All Stars were defeated in the state playoffs here Tuesday at the hands of East Central by a 7-6 margin.

East Central jumped out to a 4-3 lead at the end of the first inning before Bay St. Louis came back in the second frame to tally their final four runs of the game and take a 6-3 margin. Central was held scoreless until the fourth when the eventual winners added two more runs. One final point in the fifth was the margin of victory for the home team.

The Bay team mounted a threat in the fifth inning with men on second and third before being retired. Again in the sixth frame Bay St. Louis was knocking at the door with the bases loaded before falling to pitcher John Boyd.

Boyd recorded the win allowing only five hits and recording eight strikeouts. The young pitcher faced 26 batters and issued 12 walks in taking the victory.

Joe Gex suffered the loss for Bay St. Louis. Gex fanned six East Central batters and walked only four during his mound duty. The Bay St. Louis pitcher gave up five hits in his losing effort.

Bruce Cabell paced Bay St. Louis at the plate with a two for three performance for the game with other hits coming from Franklin Reed, Kevin Irons, and Chris Smith. Cabell came across the plate twice for the Bay team with Dennis Rhodes, Ricky Ladner, Richard Woodard, and Smith all adding one run.

Joe Kennedy was the top batter for East Central with two hits in three trips to the plate. Other hits came to East Central from the bats of Frankie Drown, Jimmie Rayborn, and Boyd. Kennedy recorded two runs for East Central with other tallies coming from Drown, Rayborn, Allen Hinton, Boyd, and Roy Denton.

Bay St. Louis committed two errors in the game while East Central went errorless.

SECOND BIG ONE - Donald C. Harvill of Waveland strains to lift 109 pound tarpon he caught fishing Monday morning. This is the second tarpon Harvill has caught, his first was 98 pounds two years ago. He was fishing with his brother David and Scott Hasney. (ECHO photo by Ellis Cuevas)

Hancock-Harrison falls in tournament

The Hancock-Harrison 11 & 12 year-old team was eliminated from the state playoffs Monday night in action at Biloxi Little League Park. Hattiesburg, Monday's winner, will now play for the state championship on August 3, 7 p.m. at the same park.

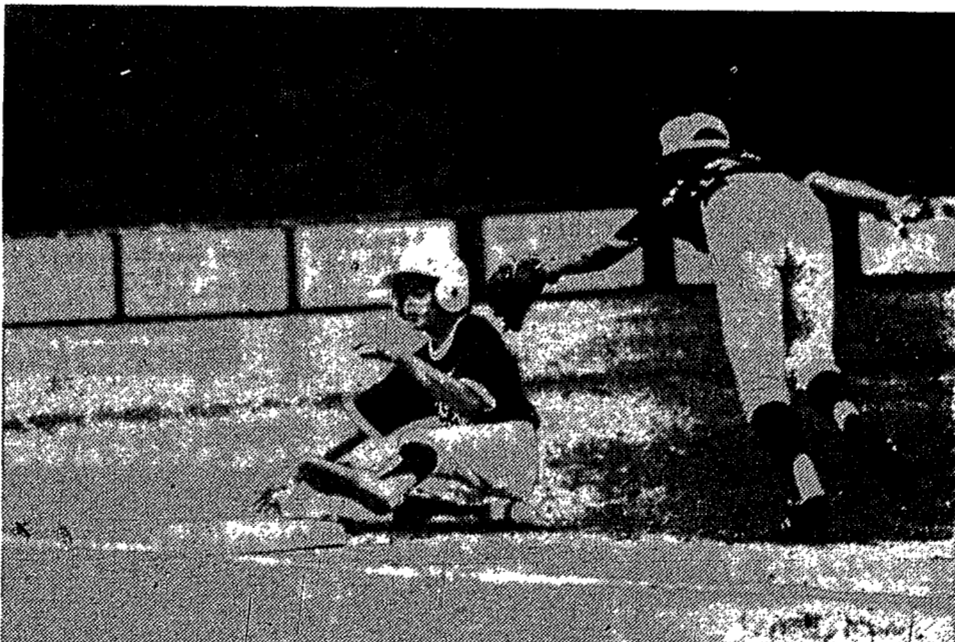

Hattiesburg's Charles Hayes tossed a three hitter at the local team, striking out 15 enroute to a 4-1 victory.

The Hancock-Harrison team made a number of excellent defensive plays for starter and loser O'Neal Henry. The game was very close until the bottom of the 5th inning when Hattiesburg staged a rally for two insurance runs. The game had been 2-1 until that point.

H-H's only run came in the 2nd inning when Patrick McCree hit a towering homerun to dead center. The announcer said the homer was the longest ever witnessed at the Little League field.

The win gave Hattiesburg the District II Little League Championship and advanced them to the state finals.

CHAIN LETTERS

Chain letters promise exaggerated returns when you send a dollar to the promoter. The promoter does not tell you that after six rounds of the chain letter, double the population of the State of Mississippi will have received the letter. In little time, if everyone does what they are supposed to do, everyone in the world will receive it. Persons joining the chain after the third round have almost no chance of getting their money back, much less making any money. Besides, it may violate the state lottery laws and the federal mail fraud laws. Penalties include jail fines.

STAY AT HOME AND GET RICH?

Here are some things a home work promoter WILL do:

1. Promise you terrific part time earnings.
2. Never offer you a regular salary.

3. Use personal testimonials from unidentified persons.

4. Assure you a large market for your handiwork.

5. Tell you - you don't need any experience.

6. Require money from you before telling you anything.

7. Take your money gladly.

"Mail envelopes from your own home," promises the ad, "and make money in your spare time."

For a franchise fee, you have an opportunity to mail advertising literature for various business from your home. The literature is provided for you by the promoter, so long as you pay the franchise fee. You are promised a certain fee, depending on the number of advertisements you mail. Usually, once the promoter has his franchise fee, the advertisements are not forthcoming and you are out your investment.

BRING A FRIEND TO LUNCH was order of day for Bay St. Louis Senior Citizens last Friday, and true to the occasion they brought mayor and city councilmen with them for red beans and rice. Later in afternoon, council took tour of Senior Citizen's Center, in Valena C. Jones Community Center on Old Spanish Trail, and learned of vast number of activities enjoyed by group, including ceramics, art classes, handicrafts, concerts, games, and like.

NEW CENTER

Ole Miss has received funds for pre-planning of an ultra modern physical education center which will replace the nearly 50-year-old Gymnasium. Plans are expected to include swimming pools, basketball courts, handball courts, weight room, and offices as well as other essential features.

UM CAMP

More than 20 handicapped children from across Mississippi recently attended a week-long session of Camp Fun-A-Lot, co-sponsored by Ole Miss and the Mississippi Easter Seal Society. Staffed by UM students and volunteers, the camp was held in John Kyle State Park at Sardis Lake.

GERMAN INSTITUTE

Dr. Lee Bolen Jr., professor of physics at Ole Miss, recently gave a seminar at the Applied Physics Institute in Germany, sponsored by the University of Munich and the Technical University of Munich. Subject was Dr. Bolen's research on the attenuation of sound over various ground covers.

Senior Citizens happenings

BY FRED HORN

RECREATION

The July Birthday Party which took place on Monday, July 25th at 1:30 P.M. was very successful. In spite of the extreme heat, 60 Senior citizens attended the event. The Birthday Party is one of the many recreation activities taking place at the center every month. Happy Birthday greetings were extended to Mrs. Annie Sulzer, Milton Inch, John Quinn, Albert Jones, Mrs. Elise McCaleb and Mrs. Celine Faironature.

We thank the R.S.V.P. members Annie Sulzer, Georgia Diebold and Marie Fazande for their help in making the birthday party successful. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Ginger Horn who called all the Seniors and to help update our telephone list, and to Mrs. Esther Cuevas for baking a cake. Mrs. Ruby Life, one of our Senior Citizens who was scheduled to play the piano for the birthday party could not attend, due to illness. Mrs. Elma Joubert, who plays piano for us had been ill all week and could not play the piano for us. We hope both of our Seniors are recovering from their ailments and in the near future will be able to play for one of our events. Good health to both of you Ladies.

Louis Burgard, who by the way has many years to go before becoming a Senior Citizen, did a very successful job, pinch hitting for us, by playing the piano for your truly and for the community song fest. Louis is a very active young man, who by the way, played a lead part in the Bay St. Louis Little Theater Play called "Fiddler on the Roof". Louis played his part with finesse. He is quite active in volunteer work. Every Wednesday he plays piano for the Day Care Center, Gospel singers at the Gulfview Nursing Home. Many thanks to you Louis for a job well done.

Yours truly entertained the Seniors by singing, "When You're Smilin'", "Shanty Town" and "Dear Old Donegal". Followed by leading all the Seniors in a community song fest, singing such old time songs as "Yes Sir, That's My Baby", "Bicycle Built for Two", "Comin' Around the Mountain" and many others. Everyone enjoyed the entertainment. Mrs. Banderet, one of our Seniors did a impromptu operatic aria that was enjoyed by everyone.

The door prize, consisting of luncheon for two was donated by Manieri's Restaurant, our personal thanks to the owners of the restaurant for their donation.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Mamie Estelle Holland.

APPLIANCE CLASS

Seniors, you are missing a great opportunity to learn how to repair your own small appliances, quite a bit of money can be saved by doing your own repairs. Hugh Miller is a very good instructor, well versed in the field of electricity, being able to repair both small and large appliances, and operating his

Fall semester to start Aug. 24th at Pearl River JC

Registration for the fall semester at Pearl River Junior College will be held Monday, Aug. 22 and Tuesday, Aug. 23 from 8:15 a.m. until 3:15 p.m. in the PRC academic building. A faculty meeting for all three PRC campuses will be held in the student center beginning at 8:30 a.m. on Friday, Aug. 19. All six of the PRC dormitories will open on Sunday, Aug. 21 at 3 p.m. Classes for the regular fall session will start Wednesday, Aug. 24 at 8:15 a.m. Labor Day Holiday will be observed on Monday, Sept. 5. Thanksgiving Holidays are planned for Wednesday, Nov. 23 through Sunday, Nov. 27. Dec. 16 is the final day of the first semester and the beginning of Christmas Holidays.

IN 1531, THE BLESSED Virgin Mary appeared to Juan Diego, an Aztec Indian on the hill of Tepeyac, Mexico. Within eight years of the apparition, 9,000,000 Indians were baptized. On October 12, 1945, Pope Pius XII named Mary the Empress of America. Our Lady of Guadalupe Shrine, Pass Christian is the first shrine to her in the Southeastern Part of the United States. The 18 foot tall structure took 13 years to complete and is the work of Ocean Springs artist-sculptor, Harry Reeks. Reeks, first an artist, then a sculptor, works from drawings instead of the customary small scale models used by most sculptors. He estimates that he made at least 200 drawings for this work. Among his other famous works are, "The Golden Fisherman" in Biloxi and "The Sam Dale Monument" in Dalesville, Miss. The construction of the pyramid and erection of the shrine was done by A. J. Scardino, a member of St. Paul's Parish and the shrine itself was donated by the Very Rev. Herbert J. Mullin, Pastor Emeritus of St. Michael's Church, Biloxi. The shrine was blessed by Bishop Joseph Howze, Bishop of Biloxi on Saturday, July 30th. Fr. John T. O'Brien is pastor of St. Paul's Church in Pass Christian.

You cannot learn how to repair small appliances by leaving them for the instructor to repair every time. The class is open to all Seniors 60 years of age and over, meeting time is every Tuesday, except Holidays, from 1:30 P.M. to 3:30 P.M.

KILN

The Senior Citizens Club held the second of their bimonthly games on Thursday, July 21st at 12:00 noon, followed by refreshments. Sam Haas donated the ice for the punch, many thanks to you Sam.

There were 25 Seniors present, everyone enjoyed the games and refreshments. Plans are being made for the 1st of the bimonthly games followed by a cold plate luncheon on Thursday, August 4th at 12 noon. All Seniors in that area are invited to attend this event. This, by the way, is the birthday party celebration, if any Senior in that area has a birthday in August, plan to attend the games and the cold plate luncheon.

National Farm Safety Week set for July 25-31

The Hancock County Farm Bureau is reminding all citizens to cut down on the high costs of farm accidents as they observe National Farm Safety Week July 25-31. Louis J. Breaux, president of the county Farm Bureau, said lack of proper safety precautions last year helped take the lives of 76 Mississippians in the rural areas of the state - an increase of 24 over 1975.

He said statistics compiled from state death certificate records show that the leading cause of Mississippi's rural accidents was drownings, which took 26 lives, and farm equipment mishaps which claimed 18. Among other causes of rural deaths were gunshots, taking 10 lives; falling objects which struck and killed 5; falls, which claimed 3; and airplane mishaps, 6.

"Safety is a Good Investment" is the theme of the 1977 safety week promotion and it is the hope of safety officials that all citizens will join in the local drive by making individual plans to learn how to reduce hazards now before the next accident happens. For instance, farm ponds can be made safer by installing small life buoys with a long throw rope attached to a post beside deep water areas.

Farm equipment can be made safer by installation of safety devices and through attendance at short courses on safe operating methods. The Safety Department of the Mississippi Farm Bureau has a library of safety films for local use and annually conducts workshops upon invitation in many areas of the state - particularly through the public school system.

Join the drive this year and learn how to recognize hazards and avoid becoming part of the statistics for 1977

Center plans registration for adult evening classes

Registration for the adult evening classes at the Hancock Center of Pearl River Junior College is scheduled for the week of Aug. 22-26 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. Monday through Tuesday and from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. Friday, Aug. 26.

Classes begin at the center, 10 miles north of Bay St. Louis, on Monday, Aug. 29. Academic fees include a $5 matriculation charge and a $15 fee per semester hour plus the cost of textbooks. Most of the academic courses are three hour college credits.

Fees for the nine vocational courses are all assessed according to materials and equipment needed.

Business and office courses scheduled are typing I and II, shorthand, office machines and bookkeeping.

Academic courses available are accounting, English, speech, sociology, political science, physical science, algebra, general math and general psychology.

Trade and industrial courses planned are auto mechanics, carpentry, masonry, basic machinist, electricity, air conditioning and refrigeration, welding and sheet metal.

County Agent's report

By John Smith

Safety is a good investment. National Farm Safety Week is July 25-31, 1977.

Our farmers are the most productive and efficient in the world; our "hobby" and the world depend upon them for food. All of us are affected by farmers' problems. One of the most serious is safety. Farming is a hazardous occupation.

Every year hundreds of thousands of farm and ranch residents suffer unnecessary injuries, and sometimes disability or death, from farm accidents. Seventy-six Mississippians died in rural accidents in 1976. The leading cause of death was drowning which caused 25 deaths.

Tractor and other farm equipment caused 18 deaths. The Hancock County Extension staff encourages farm families to place warning signs, lifesaving rings and equipment around farm ponds, and to make sure swimming is well supervised.

Operators of tractors and other farm equipment should know safe operating practices. Nine tractor fatalities involved tractor roll-overs. At least 90 percent have been avoided by using roll-over protection structure and seat belts.

Farm accidents don't just happen, they are caused. Before you operate machinery, do construction work, or any important farm work, check out the possibility of accidents and try to avoid their causes.

Gain a positive attitude toward farm safety. Don't forget safety when you need it most: when you are disturbed about a machine which is out of adjustment, when a tractor is stalled, or whatever the problem may be. Rushed and troubled times cause many accidents.

Farming does not have to be one of the most hazardous occupations in the nation. The farm can be a safer place to work if you promote and practice safety at all times. Obtain safety information, and use it.

Safety is your best investment. It will reduce losses in time, equipment, labor, medical and other expenses, and loss of life. Contact your county agent for safety information. Watch for farm safety tips and promotion as we celebrate the National Farm Safety Week July 25-31, 1977.

PESTICIDES

Read the label on any pesticide you buy, mix, apply, store or dispose of. Extension County Agent, John W. Smith says the information contained on a pesticide label helps you use, store and dispose of the container properly. Look for the key words or symbols on pesticide labels that are a guide to the material's toxicity. The words 'Danger', 'Poison', and the skull and crossbones symbol are found on labels of highly toxic pesticides. The word 'Warning' indicates the material is moderately toxic. Slightly toxic compounds have the word 'caution' on the label. Remember, the safe use of pesticides is Everyone's responsibility. Work safely on your farm and promote National Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, 1977.

ETV lessons to be screened in county

Charles B. Murphy School, Perlington, and Gulfview Elementary School, Lakeshore, students will have access to 95 instructional television programs—24 of them new—this coming school year over the Mississippi ETV Network.

Previews of many programs will be included on Mississippi ETV's "A Different Picture" special, "A Different Picture" will be built around a magic theme, complete with a magician who will be introducing parents, teachers and students to the "different picture" that will be available to them on ETV with 24 new series on schedule.

For the evening - long special, one representative series from each of several subject areas has been chosen to be previewed during the first hour of the special. A brief portion of each of those series will be shown.

The remaining three hours will be segmented according to grade level and will further cover the subject areas presented in the first hour. The format was designed for parents who may not be able to view the entire, program, but could tune in for specific grade levels they are interested in.

Grades one through three will be featured beginning at 8 p.m. with previews of ETV series designed specifically for them.

Beginning at Approximately 9, grades four through six will be covered, and, at about 10, junior and senior high school series will be featured.

Mississippi ETV has three locally-produced series that will have their premieres this fall and will be previewed in "A Different Picture": another series on the metric system— "The Measuring Show" starring Mary Ann Mobley—and two new in service training series for physical education teachers and for guidance counselors.

Mississippi ETV broadcast instructional series in the areas listed below. The number of series is listed also: Language arts, 20; mathematics, 20; social studies, 18; science, 18; health and safety, 6; music, 3; art, 2; industrial vocation, 1; general, 2; in service, 5.

CD meet held on July 11th

A meeting of elected officials was conducted by the Hancock County Civil Defense on Monday, July 11th at the Waveland American Legion on Coleman Ave. Some 31 officials were in attendance including three state officials, J.E. Maher, operations officer, Bruce Baughman, training & education officer, and Prentiss Baughman, director for the governor's natural disaster plans & programs council.

At the opening of the meeting everyone was given a pamphlet on "Standards for Civil Preparedness". Bob Boudin, Hancock County CD Director, opened the meeting by thanking those in attendance and showing their concern for the civil defense program.

Edward Khayat, president of the Jackson Co. board of supervisors, made a few comments on how their CD program started and advanced through the years.

Maher explained the operations of CD and the reimbursement programs available to CD organizations.

A film was shown on Neesh County and how the general public worked together after warnings were issued for an approaching tornado.

Ken Phillips, director of the Jackson County Disaster Emergency Services, explained their organization and offered assistance to Hancock County. He was the former State Civil Defense Director (1963-69).

In service

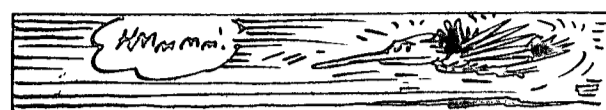

Navy Construction Mechanic Second Class Craig L. Johnson, son of Mr. Robert Johnson of 182 Alexander Road, and Mrs. Macy Alexander of 114 Alexander Road, both of Long Beach, has completed an advanced construction mechanic course. His wife Beulah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hill of Pass Christian.

The 11-week course was conducted at the Naval Construction Training Center, Gulfport. The course was designed to provide students with a working knowledge of testing, adjusting and repairing automatic transmissions on automotive and construction equipment.

Students received instruction on the principles of hydraulics and the assembly and disassembly, inspection and repair of various high-torque converters and transmissions.

A 1970 graduate of Long Beach High School, he joined the Navy in April 1971.

ASCS reports

CATTLE PRODUCERS FAIL TO APPROVE BEEF RESEARCH AND INFORMATION PROGRAM

Preliminary results of a nationwide referendum indicate that cattle producers have turned down a National Beef Research and Information Program. The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), which conducted the referendum, reports that 322,175 beef producers registered to vote in the referendum, 231,046 or 72 percent voted and, of those, 130,464 or 56.5 percent voted affirmatively.

In Mississippi, 5,501 registered, 3,144 voted 'yes', 581 voted 'no' - total votes 3,725.

In Pearl River County, 79 registered, 44 voted 'yes', 11 voted 'no' - total votes 55.

Hancock County, 12 registered, 8 voted for, 0 against - total votes 8.

Hancock Counties in AUGUST 1, 1977. Farmers who do not report their planted acreage will be considered to have no planted acreage and may be ineligible for program benefits in 1978. Farmers are requested to come to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office and give this information and sign proper forms.

Natural cheeses, up to one-pound size (except Neufchatel), can be frozen for six weeks to two months if they are unopened and kept in their original wrappers. After removing cheese from freezer, let it thaw in the refrigerator for 24 hours and use soon after thawing.

Nurse volunteers for summer camp attend the Harrison County Retarded Citizens Camp.

Cathy Varble, wife of Lt. Col. Thomas Varble, is spending two weeks, 24-hours per day at the camp, and her only fee is the smile on the faces of those who have enjoyed the camp.

"I like to keep my hand in nursing," Mrs. Varble explained. She spent six years as an Air Force nurse before leaving the Air Force to have her son in 1966. Her nursing training was completed at the University of Alabama in Mobile. Her Air Force tours were in England, Mississippi, and Texas. She also served as a flight nurse during her military service.

Now, as a civilian, she keeps active in nursing through camps like these as well as a variety of other volunteer activities. She just completed the Gulf Coast Mental Health Children's Camp at Camp Onward, Bay St. Louis, Miss. This is the third year that she has worked in the camps. She is the representative to the hospital health care committee. She is chairman of the Keesler Thrift Shop, and also serves as a volunteer at the USAF Medical Center, Keesler.

The Harrison County camp will conclude this week. It is being held at the Seashore Manor area in Biloxi.

VA news

If you have been receiving Veterans Administration checks and you are moving at the end of the semester, you should leave your forwarding address and notify VA. If you don't, you could miss getting your final check.

Merlyn J. Cook, Assistant VA Center Director for Regional Office, says the return to postpayment of monthly educational allowances has added a new dimension to ongoing efforts to maintain current mailing addresses of VA beneficiaries.

VA checks for GI Bill students' final month of training, or partial month, will be issued on the first day of the following month, Cook said. Unless the VA and the postal service have received a change of address, the check will be mailed to the address provided by the student during the school term.

Changes of address can be reported to the VA Center, 2350 Highway 80 West, Jackson, Mississippi 39204. Changes can also be reported by calling 969-4873 in the Jackson area or 1-800-682-5270 toll-free outside Jackson.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY

I've always heard advertising doesn't cost anybody anything — it pays for itself. If this is true, why is it that some of the most expensive stores I've been in are such big advertisers?
Clothes Horse.

Dear C. H. Advertising gets more customers into stores, which lowers the per unit cost of goods sold. It also makes mass production possible, which further lowers per unit cost.

Most retailers design their advertising to produce even higher volume sales, primarily by stressing low prices.

Exclusive, quality stores must have volume also, though generally not so much as lower profit margin outlets. Their advertising is designed to build volume with customers willing to pay more for exclusive and prestigious atmosphere and goods. Much of the prestige associated with these stores is a result of their advertising high prices.

Price of goods is a key factor in both advertisers' messages. The first gets the desired traffic and sales through lower prices — the second selects prospects and perpetuates his reputation with higher prices.

Customers benefit in both instances by also getting what they want, and at lower prices.

The exclusive stores frequently use clearance sales for out-of-season and overstocked merchandise. Here the emphasis is still on quality. As previous advertising has established regular prices, the sale is believable.

This is not to be confused with the discounter, who never advertises or sells at "regular" prices and uses them only to show "savings."

I always buy the cheaper products that are not advertised. Prudent Shopper.

Dear Prude: You ought to buy some of the advertised brands occasionally and see what you're missing. Only rarely is advertising a factor in high cost. Advertising lowers costs by increasing overall sales. You're missing more than the bandwagon.

Home Economist notes

By Norine Barnes

The hallmark of an educated person is not knowing all the answers but rather in knowing where to find the answers. Today I am going to give you a few good resources to help you find the information you need.

MILEAGE GUIDE
The "1977 Gas Mileage Guide" for new car buyers is now available. This guide helps in selecting a vehicle for both transportation needs and fuel economy savings. The guide is made available through the joint efforts of the Federal Energy Administration and the Environmental Protection Agency. The 1977 guide has two important features that the 1976 guide did not include: (1) All vehicles are divided into different size classes according to their interior size, and (2) the average annual fuel cost for each car is now given.

According to the requirements of the Energy Policy and Conservation Act (1975), car dealers are required to make this guide available to their showrooms. You may write for copies to: Fuel Economy, National Energy Information Center, Federal Energy Administration, Room 1407, Washington, D.C. 20461.

Design, Construction, and Evaluation Of A Low-Cost

has "Thankyou"

shrimp boil

The Henderson Point Volunteer Fire Department staged a "Thankyou" shrimp boil on Saturday at the fire house on Livingston Drive.

The "Thankyou" was to thank the Pass Christian Fire Department and Volunteer Fire Department for the help and services rendered to each other and the Henderson Point VFD.

Members of the HPVFD took their trawlers to sea to catch the shrimp and the ladies auxiliary capably handled arrangements for cooking and serving.

A dedication of the fire hall has been scheduled for Aug. 6, at a time still to be determined.

The scientist who discovered that blood actually circulates through the body was William Harvey. He examined the veins on his own body.

SS cheerleaders rated superior

The St. Stanislaus Varsity Cheerleaders returned from the N.C.A. Cheerleading Camp at Perkinson, with all superior ratings. In each of the four days' evaluation, they received the superior ranking, which is the highest possible rating given by the N.C.A. instructors. In addition to this, they were awarded a "spirit stick" on three days and were allowed to bring this spirit stick back to St. Stanislaus.

Approximately 400 girls representing over 40 schools were in attendance at the cheerleading camp. On the final day of the camp, the St.

Stanislaus cheerleaders were voted "runner-up" for the most spirit squad at the camp. The award was voted upon by the schools attending the camp.

The St. Stanislaus cheerleaders were named as a "Superstar Squad" for incorporating double stunts and pyramids in a cheer, performing tumbling in a cheer, and showing true spirit and dedication for their school.

The St. Stanislaus cheerleaders attending the camp were Fran Sallinger (captain), Suzi Kergosien, Renee Jarreau, Missy Treutel and Delarie Ladner.
